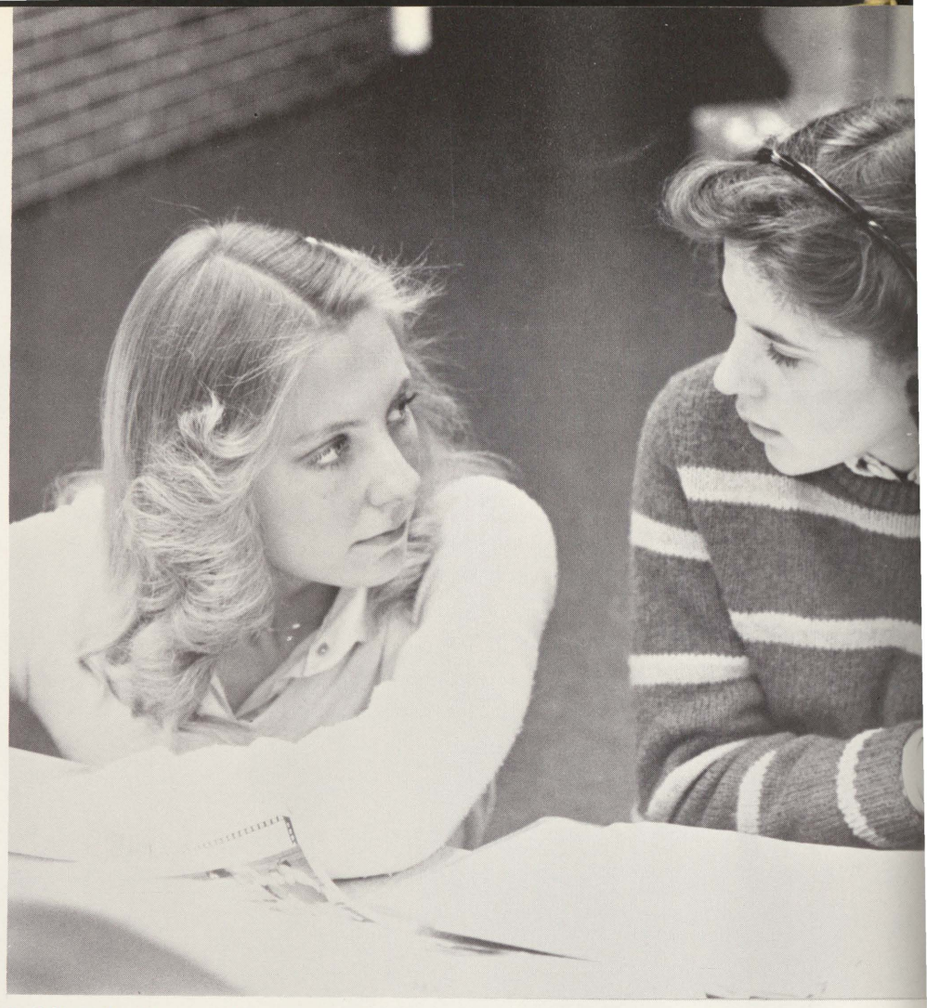
Notice any changes? You should, for the 1978-1979 school year signified many modifications in Introspectus. A book larger in dimension with a color senior section, new headline style, and an entirely new lay-our produced a yearbook unique in design.

Serving as this year's co-editors were Sue Bovee and Jenny Carney. Miss Elizabeth Spaulding advised the Introspectus staff.

The changes made in the 1978-1979 Introspectus reflect, in a small way, the potential of new ideas and attitudes, change, and growth open to all Ike students during their high school years.



Co-Editors Sue Bovee and Jennifer Carney discuss the changes in this year's page layout.

Yearbook typist and business manager, Carol Brisbois, composes type for the 1979 yearbook.

The Word: Rapid Reporting

Serving as Editor-in-chief of The Word, was senior Rachel Vargas.

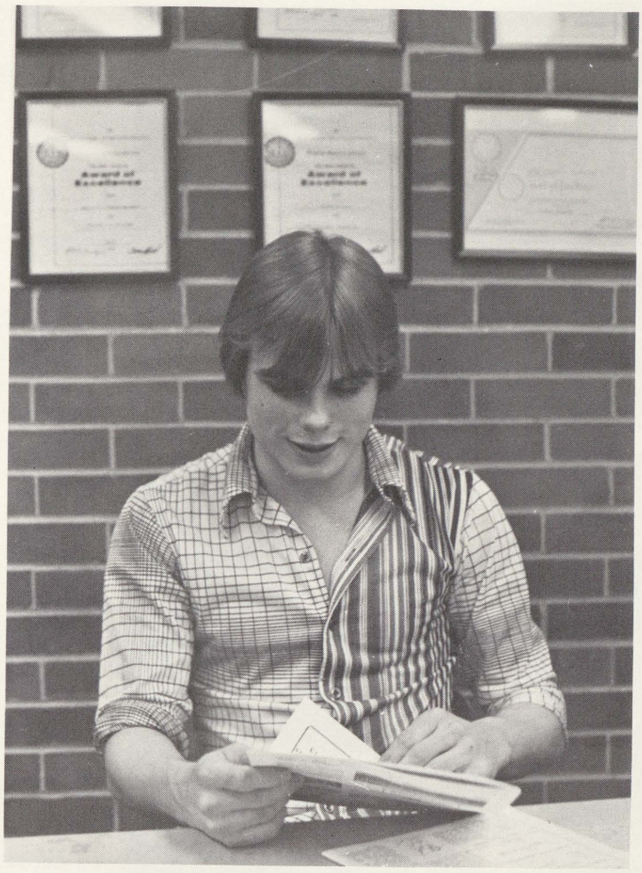
Tossing around nouns, verbs, prepostional phrases and adverbs coupled with good photography and drawing is the job of every newspaper staff, but to do it with class and distinction is what separates The Word from other papers. In its eighth year of publication The Word has grown into a noteworthy piece of literary embellishment.

Led by this year's editor-in-chief, Senior Rachel Vargas, the staff included six additional page editors plus two sports editors. The twenty members completed ten newspapers in the '78-'79 year.

With such sections as editorial pages, album and concert reviews, and sports coverage joined with superior photography and excellent drawing by Junior Kurt Falk, The Word was one of the more popular additions to the week.

Staff photographers Jan Becker and Rick Ott check on negatives.

Exchange Editor, Joy Bamberger, discusses a California exchange.



Terry Weadock begins the Tuesday morning critique of The Word.

Deadline today! Dan Powlus races with time.

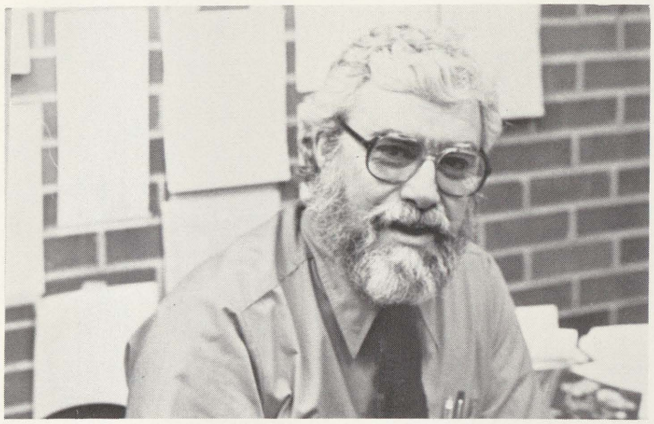
Showing their enthusiasm for the MacArthur game, the Pep Club displays their design of an "E" using the white flip cards.

Caught in a moment of concentration is this year's president, Sue Bovee.

The Pep Club officers include: Cheryl Miller, Secretary; Chris Cummings, Vice-President; Sue Bovee, President; and Patti Mitchell, Treasurer.



As advisor of the Pep Club for his fifth year, Mr. Russ Spaulding seems to enjoy his position.

Hanging a sign for the freshman game against Midland East are members of the Pep Club, Karen Knight, Chris Kostrzewa, and Jean Preston.

This year's Pep Club's largest undertaking was Homecoming week. They devoted a considerable amount of their time and energy to planning and carrying out the week's activities.

The Alumni Tea took place on October 21 in the Ottawa Gym. The homecoming court members greeted the alumni from recent years while punch and cookies were being served.

Early Saturday morning, October 21, the members of the Pep Club and their advisor, Mr. Russ Spaulding, worked on making nametags and flowers, collecting pumpkins, and making the final decorations for the dance.

Signs were another major task for the Pep Club. They were made for athletic events to promote spirit.

Flip cards were used for the first time this year at some of the basketball games. The girls formed different designs such as an "E" and a No. 1, out of green and white cards. This was another one of the many ways that the Pep Club helped to produce spirit at Eisenhower.

Ike spirit shines far and wide

through various speakers, the Forum brought in a representative from Teen Challenge of Saginaw.

Meeting at the middle of their licorice during the Forum sponsored 50's Day assembly, Tom Kelly and Tom LeBlanc will be surprised when they see who they're kissing.

Traveling to Higgins Lake State Park in late September, the new 1978-1979 Forum members got to know each other as they set their goals for the school year.

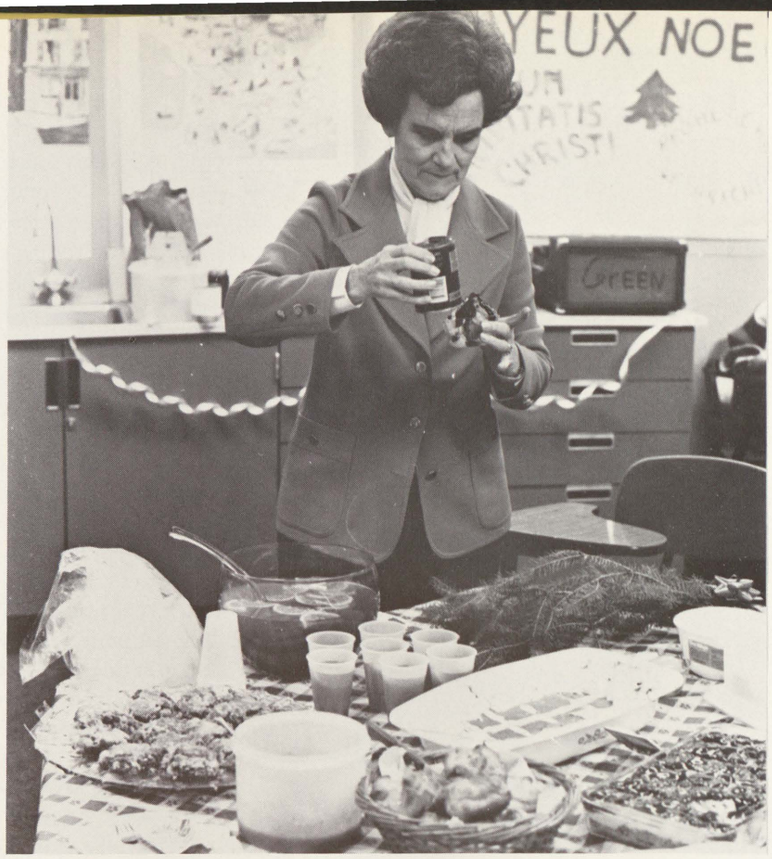
Finding some of the money raising assemblies were getting to be the same year after year, the Current Affairs Committee tried to get more students involved by creating new contests during the assemblies. Fifties Day consisted of a hula-hoop contest and Goblin's Day included a banana eating contest. Both ideas attracted a lot of participants and earned money for charities.

The Betterment Committee worked to have a school flag made with the school emblem painted on it. By fixing chairs, tables and painting the theater, the Betterment Committee helped to make the school look better, and feel a little more comfortable.

The Communications Committee, along with the Parents Advisory Council, helped to keep the parents informed of school happenings with a monthly newsletter called "We Wanted You to Know." The newsletter contained information about clubs, athletic events and important dates to remember. By conducting surveys the Communications Committee found suggestions from the student body for things for the Forum to work on.

The Sales Policy was one of Clubs and Organizations main goals this year. By keeping a calender of when each club sold candy, the Committee tried to keep too many clubs from selling candy at once.

University of Michigan held a leadership conference which was attended by the four Forum officers: Rob Fleener; Chairman, Robin Bird; Vice Chairman, Laura Ray; Secretary, and Lorrie Nordin; Treasurer. The officers attended seminars where they learned how to improve their reports and received ideas on how to better their respective postitions.



Contributing her dessert to the table, club advisor Madame Rozyla adds chocolate sauce to her Peche Melba.

Finishing her last bite of Chocolate Mousse, Jenny Carney finds French desserts delicious.

French Club promotes foreign interests

Working on new ideas this year, the French Club planned many different activities. On October 23, the French Club members traveled to Flint, Michigan, where they saw a group of traditional French dancers from Canada. After the performance, club members were treated to a French lunch at the Country Squire.

Trying to promote interest in foreign languages, the club members combined with the other foreign language clubs to paint signs wishing everyone a Merry Christmas in different languages.

Eating foods from other countries was the main goal of the International Dinner which was held in February. All four clubs participated in the dinner by bringing traditional dishes from the countries of France, Spain, Germany, and Italy.

Membership expands for Spanish Club

"Activo" translated means active, and this describes this year's Spanish Club.

Some of the activities highlighting this year were; horseback riding at Jan Homeshaw's stables and a trip to Casa del Rey, where everyone got a taste of Mexican food. The club has also participated in a banquet in which all the foreign language clubs at Eisenhower attended. Everyone who went got to taste foods from Spain, Germany, Latin America, and France.

Spanish Club sponsored a little Mexican girl through "Save the Children Foundation."

Officers for 1978-79 were: Linda Paquette; President, Linda Sparshu and Debbie McCarthy shared the responsibilities of the Vice-President and Secretary and Klara Verdoni; Treasurer. This year's advisor was Mrs. Rita Belk.

At the first meeting of the year Klara Verdoni tried out a traditional Spanish fan.

A new addition to this year's teaching staff, Mrs. Rita Belk advises the Spanish Club in her first year.

Advice is given to club members by advisor Frau Buller at another morning meeting.

Deutsch gefalltuns

An enjoyable day is spent by Julie Beyer and Theresa Reinig as they look through one of the many German styled shops in Frankenmuth.

To make learning a foreign language interesting and acquaint members with the cultural aspects of German speaking people was the purpose of German Club. They were directed again by German teacher "Frau" Buller. The members met on Thursday mornings at 7:45 to plan their activities.

In the fall, the club sponsored a German dinner which was prepared by the members for their families. During the Christmas season they sang German Christmas carols at Luther Manor and Maccabee Gardens nursing homes, and afterwards had a party.

Advent calenders as well as regular calenders and candy were sold to raise funds. Trips to Frankenmuth were also included in the club's activities as they toured the German style shops and the brewery, and ended their visit with a dinner at the Bavarian Inn.

In February a Kaffe and Kuchen (which means coffee and pastry) gathering was enjoyed by the members. The club also participated in the international dinner, went tobogganing and finished their year with a canoe trip.

German club, under the leadership of President Theresa Reinig, Vice-President Monika Strautnieks, and Secretary-Treasurer Kathy Wolf, increased its membership and sponsored well attended activities this year.

Drama Club performs dual musicals

Pondering over a cup of coffee is Drama Club advisor, Miss Ruth Anne Sowle.

The Drama Club, headed by President Les Bravender and Vice-President Dave Lucas and Jan Holler as Secretary-Treasurer, started the 78-79 season with a fall musical "Once Upon a Mattress," continuing into the winter with another musical "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown."

Being short on funds, the Drama Club turned to three money making ideas; the selling of ink pens, a garage sale, and the selling of advertisements for programs. In February the Drama Club attended Fischer Theater in Detroit to see the musical production of "Annie."

Serving as officers were Sue Swartzendruber, Vice-President; Denise Vilardo, President; and Linda Paquette, secretary.

Forty-six seniors composed the National Honor Society for the 1978-79 school year.

Members were inducted into the society early in the spring. They are required to have a 3.5 grade point average and also have leadership ability.

The seniors ended the year with a welcomed banquet on May 8th for the new upcoming juniors.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll is a national Honorary for high school journalists. Its purpose is to encourage and reward individual achievement in journalism, photography, and school publications.

High standards are maintained for individual student membership; the member must meet these qualifications: be a senior or junior in the top third of their class, have done superior work in some phase of journalism of school publication, be recommended by the advisor of school publications, and be approved by the Executive Secretary of the Society.

Quill and Scroll: Yearbook : Dean Dinger, Sue Bovee, Don Demko, and Jennifer Carney.

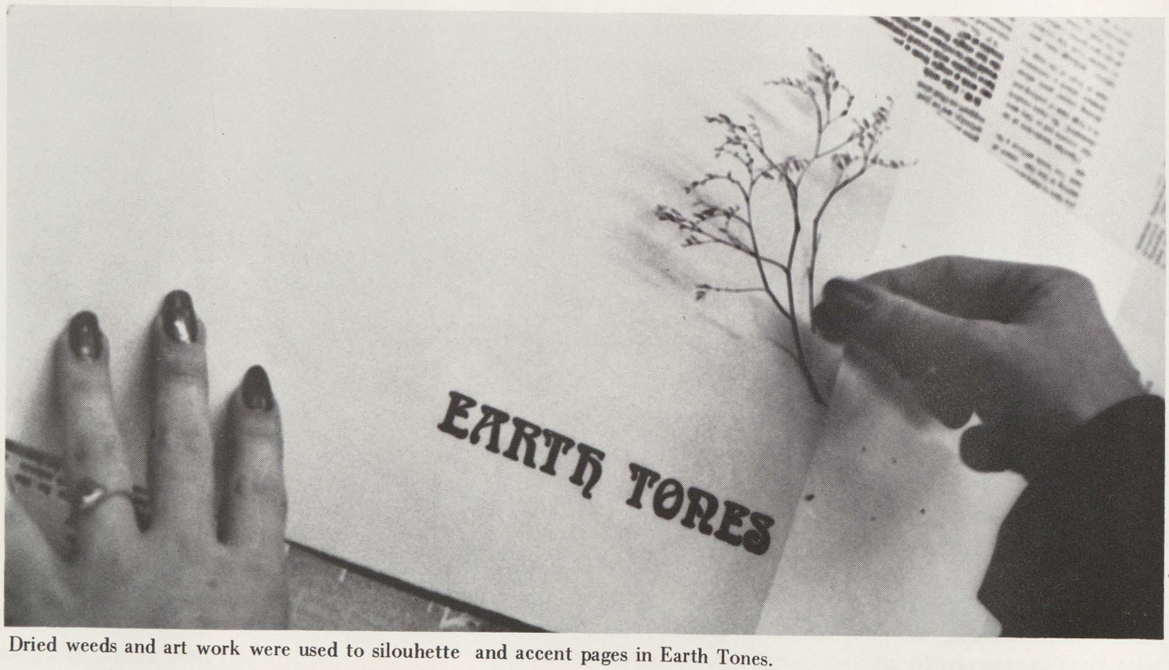
Magazine Staff

Combining the use of art, photography, and writing, staff members of the literary magazine created several publications during the year.

The athletic programs were designed, with special care in graphics, and keylining, for a successful layout. The fall and winter sports programs were completed as a forerunner for learning layout for creating the writing books, called "Earth Tones" and "Reflections".

Individual works of the writers on the staff were organized into special books. Each staff member designed, chose a layout style and completed keylining and layout techniques for a personal published anothology.



Dried weeds and art work were used to silouhette and accent pages in Earth Tones.

Changes in history

Experiencing different ways of learning was one of the changes Eisenhower students went through during the 78-79 school year.

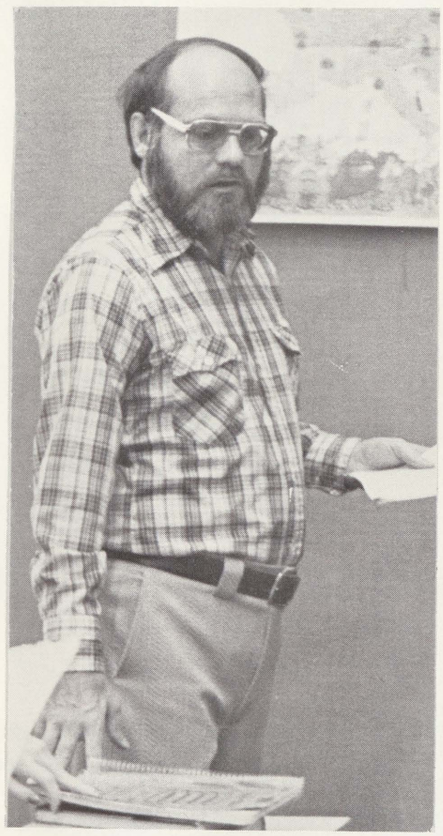
This year was the first year for the Honors program, which included freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The classes in the program were taught on the basis of college courses. Mr. Jim Teal taught social studies, and Mr. Rol Crane taught English.

Another first year program change was team teaching. Mr. Dick Douglas, Mr. Bope Winiecki, and Mr. Dave Michelson combined their individual classes into one to form a college atmosphere.

U.S. History and government classes were the ones who were affected by this change, the students soon adjusted to it.

Students in U.S. History did a variety of things, including decorating the areas for the election of Andrew Jackson. and receiving lectures and tours at the Consumer Power Nuclear Plant.

Many government and U.S. History students took part in the political election during the fall. Students took a poll on the telephone, and passed out literature. This proved to be a learning experience for all those students who participated.



Honors teacher Mr. Jim Teal explains geographical features to the freshman seminar students.

Gerbils have been a new addition to the science studies.

Creating a new trend in the science area, animal life had been brought in for study. A tarantula, brought in by senior, John Enzer, seemed to get the most attention. Other forms of life study included snakes, gerbils, and hamsters.

Plant life had also been observed. By placing a plant on a turntable, students found that centrifical force is significant in the growth of the plant. It has also been found that plants grow toward the light and that gravity is not an important factor.

The classes succeeded in making a reuben sandwich. By using bacteria to curdle the milk to produce cheese, and to create a chemical reaction with vinegar to produce sauerkraut, and to change the flavor and texture of meat to produce corned beef, science students rivaled local restauranters in creating delicacies that were nutritious as well as good tasting.

After a two year absence, photography returned to Eisenhower in the form of a photojournalism class. About 60 students were enrolled in the 20 week course which met first hour in the Publications Room.

Beginning darkroom techniques were the emphasis of the course. Students learned to develop and print their own black and white films. Special effects of tone separations, vignetting, sepia toning, and double exposures were taught. Students also worked with studio lighting situations and experimented with antique backdrops, costumes, and toning.

Emphasis was also placed on photography as a career. Students studied various career opportunities and completed assignments as if they were involved in various types of professional and commercial photography.

Lori Wackerly molds a bowl during Pottery.

Studio Art provides Karen Gohm with a chance to work on a giant mural painting.

Innovating ideas coupled with talented young artists helped bring forth a productive stream of creativity in the art classes this year.

Instructed by Mr. Walt Nagel, students were offered a variety of classes to choose from, including Art I and II, Studio Art, Drawing and Silkscreen, Painting, and Pottery. Individual Art was offered for the student who was unable to schedule the class he wanted, and this allowed the student to work on an individual basis toward an art project, during the hour he wanted.

Students were encouraged not to stay in the conventional bounds of art, but to branch out in originality instead. This produced many new and interesting projects which included self-portraits, ink drawings, paper mache' statuettes and many advanced paintings.

Highlighting the year was the entrance of many student projects in various art shows around the area, and the distribution of a variety of framed art exhibits around the school.

"Crazy Day" was Thursday, Oct. 19. During 4th and 5th hours students participated in a lap sitting contest and a room cram. The students and faculty went to the polls to select their favorite court member for queen.

That night, the Junior Varsity Football Team traveled to John Glenn to play a tough game which ended in a tie, 34-34.

Friday, Oct. 20, ending the school week was "Green and White Day". During the half time of the varsity game against John Glenn, the Homecoming Court was presented to the fans, and senior, Linda Paquette was announced as queen for the 1978-79 school year.

The Commanders battled against the Bobcats, but were defeated by a score of 34-28.

The student center was the setting for the Homecoming dance on Saturday evening, Oct. 21. The band "Giggle" provided the music for the dance, whose theme was "Always and Forever". The dance ended the Homecoming festivities.

Determined to win, the Eisenhower offensive line sets up for their next play.

Enthusiastic about the Homecoming game, are the J.V., Varsity, and Freshman Pom-pon squads performing to "You Should Be Dancing".

Students show how to get involved during a lap-sitting contest on Crazy Day during 4th & 5th hours.

Decorations by the Junior Class prove their ability to be No. 1-- "Always and Forever".

Proudly waiting for their daughters to be presented to the school during the court assembly are the mothers of this year's court members.

Ike returns to the 50's

Mark Puszykowski, Dave Matekel, Dale Brassuer try to help out John Puszykowski set up for the 50's Day Dance Marathon.

During the pep assembly after the dance marathon, Lloyd Beyer and Bob Serr receive prizes for the best couple from Rob Fleener, Jill Bruce, and Stacy Bird.

Jamming to the music and relating to the sound, Albert Byas shows what 50's day is all about.

Elwood Blue, the Fonz, and Laverne & Shirley were just a few of the many attractions seen at Eisenhower on the school's Fifties Day, held February 16th. The annual event, sponsored by the Forum, was a fund raiser for the March of Dimes. The Forum collected $250 for the cause.

Beginning at 9:00 a.m., a dance marathon was held which lasted until sixth hour, collecting a large portion of the overall money. During sixth hour a pep assembly was held in which the entouage of comical, mangy, and sometimes outrageous costumes could be shown off. Continuing its legacy of a nostalgic step backwards into time, Fifties Day once again proved Ike's interest in extracurricular activities.

Twisting to the 50's sound is Robin Bird on the day of the Marathon.

Goblin's Day had real appeal

Trying to discover how the other half lives, Add Cum. mings and Karen Dubay switch roles for the day.

"I just can't do it," exclaims Monty Moon to Troy Davis as they try to outeat the Senior Class in Bananas.

Goblin's Day, which was sponsored by Ike's Forum, raised a total of $180 for UNICEF. One hundred dollars of the earnings were collected throughout the day by kids dressed up as things from crayons to monsters.

At the end of the day an assembly was held. Awards were given out to the costumes which were the ugliest, cutest, most original, cuddliest, scariest, best couple, best trio, and also to the person who collected the most money.

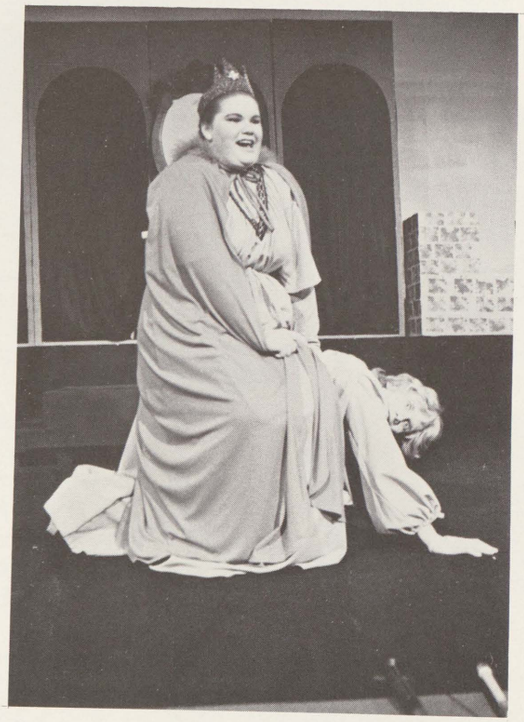
During the assembly the four classes competed in a banana eating contest. The more money one class collected, the more bananas the others ate. The uniors and ophomores both won this event. Eighty dollars raised for this.

The Forum did not forget the teachers either. A game of musical chairs was planned for them and Miss Chris Maier ended up with the chair.

Goblin's Day isn't just for Ghosts and Ghouls! Mary Harrington and Sue Fritz are cute enough to cuddle.

The cast members of the musical-comedy, " Once Upon A Mattress," take a final bow after a tiring performance.

Harmonizing springs



Nagging the evil wizard (Steve Tessin), Queen Aggravain (JoEllen Laundra) desperately tries to think of the next unfair test to prove her future daughter-in-law's credibility.

Promising her a better life, the Minstrel convinces Lady Larken to run away with him, and the jester is all for it.

Emily, a lady-in-waiting, King Sextimus the Silent, Prince Dauntless, and Queen Aggravain look on as Princess Winnifred (not in picture) enters the castle. (Annie Nowaczyk, Donna Rousseau, Dave Lucas, Les Bravender, JoEllen Laundra.)

Sharing a quiet moment, Lady Larken (Kristie Beyer) and Sir Harry (Monty Moon) show their deepest feelings for each other.

The combined talents of an excellent cast and crew, $250.00 worth of well designed costumes, along with an hilarious satirical version of an old fairy tale proved to be the necessary ingredients of the funniest musical presented in Eisenhower's history.

"Once Upon A Mattress" was the inside story of what really happened to the famous princess who was so sensitive that she couldn't sleep on twenty downy mattresses when one pea was placed underneath.

Directing the harmonizing vocal talents was Mrs. Linda Schopp. Mrs. Rita Belk designed the costumes. JoEllen Laundra, Jan Hollar, Patti Mitchell, and Gretchen Hollerback helped to choreograph the dance numbers. Miss Ruth Anne Sowle served as director for "Once Upon A Mattress".

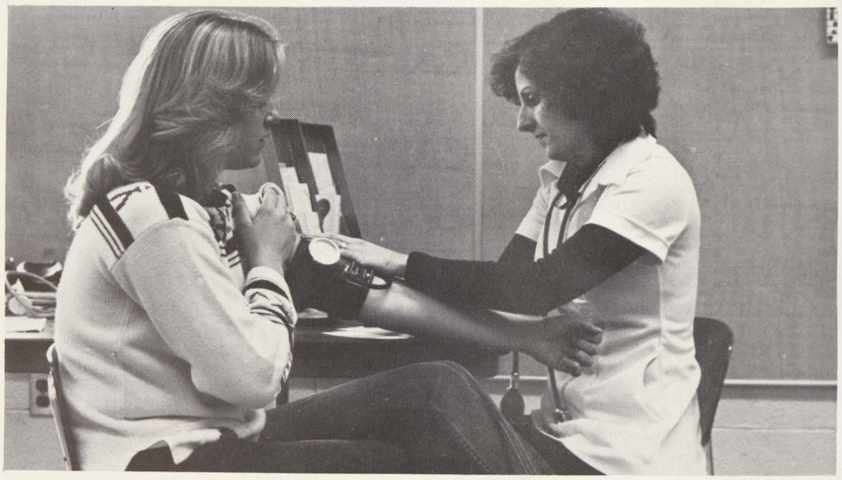
Leading roles were: Mark Gebhart, Minstrel; Steve Tessin, The Wizard; Kristie Beyer, Lady Larken JoEllen Laundra, Queen Aggravain; Les Bravender, Prince Dauntless; Dave Lucas, King Sextimus the Silent; Dave Shaler, the Jester; Monty Moon, Sir Harry; and Lynne Newman as Princess Winnifred.

"Once Upon A Mattress" was presented from November 15-18, 1978, in the Eisenhower theater for four 8:00 p.m. performances.

Blood drive - a gift of life

On November 30th 1978, thirty-four students and teachers surrendered their blood in the bandroom. Twenty-two potential donors were refused for reasons such as low and high blood pressure and colds. The Red Cross drew thirty-four pints of blood from accepted donors.

Juniors Robin Bird and Laura Ray were chairmen of the drive for the second consecutive year. The blood drive was presented by the Forum.



Kelly Julian has her blood pressure taken as preparation for donating blood.

Giving a pint of blood, Mr. Al VonDrasek tries to relax.

Shawn Waters watches as his blood gets typed to see if it is acceptable.

Choir shares their talents in music

Looking over their sheet music are Lynne Newman, Frank Ricica, and Jeff Crane.

Fashion Square Mall was just one of the many places Eisenhower's choir performed. The choir gave six performances throughout the year at various locations such as Eisenhower's Open House, the annual Love–Affair for retarded children, Community Hospital, and Ottawa and Mackinaw Middle Schools.

This year's choir was directed by Mrs. Linda Schopp and consisted of less than thirty members. Complimenting the larger choir were two smaller groups. One of those being the Pieces of Eight group was made up of four girls and four guys.

The other group, Boy's Quartet, consisted of four boys: John Pusykowski, Craig Galinski, Steve Tessin, and Jeff Craine.

Pieces of Eight: Front Row: Shelley Koenemann, Kari Lamb, Rochelle Michalski, Kristie Beyer. Second Row: Mrs. Linda Schopp, Doug McKinley, Monty Moon, Frank Ricica, Kevin Schultz.

Displaying their new uniforms, the band performs in the first annual Christmas parade in downtown Saginaw.

New West Point uniforms added to this year's band's appearance. The uniforms arrived after several years of fund raising activities.

The 1978–79 Eisenhower High School Marching Band performed in several activities this season. The band marched in three parades, two of them being in Saginaw, and the last one in BayCity. The band traveled to the local junior high schools to entertain the students.

Closer to home, the marching band played for the home football games, and entertained the cheering fans at the pep assemblies.

On December 19, 1978, the Eisenhower Concert Band packed the theater for this year's Christmas concert.

Serving as drum major was Junior, John Kretchman. Mr. Mike Vierow directed the 1978–79 band.

With a responsibility to organize the freshman class, the freshman class council managed to raise money through candy sales for field trips. Some of the major activities planned were: horseback riding, hay rides, tobagganing, sleigh rides, and a ski trip combined with the sophomore class in order to save money.

Elected officers of this year's freshman class council consisted of President, Mark VanderBorgh; Vice-President, Tammy Detloff; Treasurer, Nancy Caswell; and Secretary, Mary Morley.

Agreeing on what's being said are officers Mark VanderBorgh, Nancy Caswell, Tammy Detloff, and Mary Morley.

Sophomore class is going places

President Craig Nester, Vice-President Anne Morley, Secretary Lynnette Rasalan, and Treasurer Val Matson were the elected officers of this year for the Sophomore Class. The officers and the council made the plans for this year. Skiing and a Cedar Point trip were among the major trips. Other activities included a sleigh ride, tobogganing, and a hayride.

To raise money they sold candy, sponsored dances, and worked at bingos. The council also helped to prepare for the prom.

Promoting involvement was the basic idea of the Junior Class this year. As winners of the class competition cheers and decorating for Homecoming the past two years, they tried their best to keep their spirit going—even when pep assembl their spirit going – even when pep assemblies became boring and lifeless.

During November, a hayride took place at Rhode's in Bridgeport. Rollerskating, bowling, and a Cedar Point trip were planned activities for the remainder of the year.

Most of the council's meetings were devoted to planning the Junior-Senior Prom, which was held on May 19th.

Juniors keep spirit alive

Chosen as this year's leaders, the Senior Class Council made decisions which influenced the Class of '79.

They went on a hayride in the fall, and started planning out activities including graduation and the color gowns they would wear, a sleigh ride and a ski trip.

They proved their school spirit by winning many competition cheers at the pep assemblies.

In the spring they went on a senior trip to Cedar Point. On June 3, 1979 they graduated.

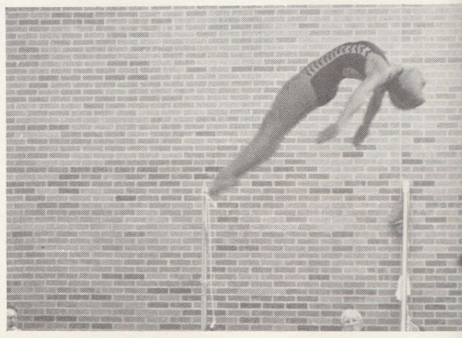
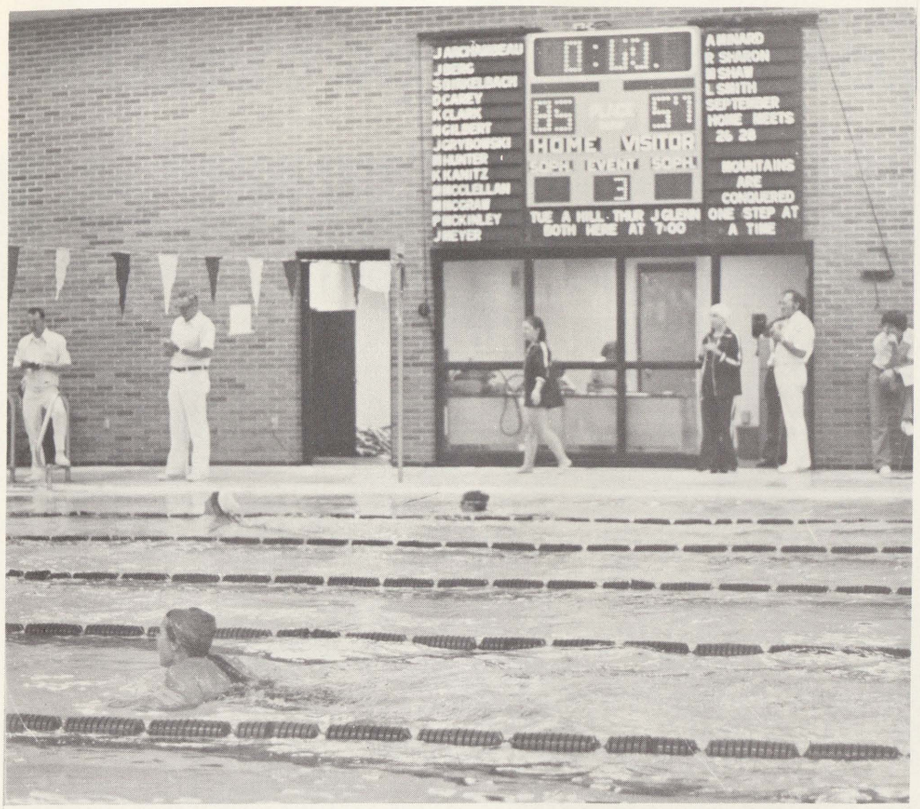
They're off! Starting the next race the Eisenhower swimmer's push off the blocks to get ahead.

Stroking to a successful season



Laying out on her first dive of the night, Nancy Gilbert scored high and went on to win the meet's diving competition.



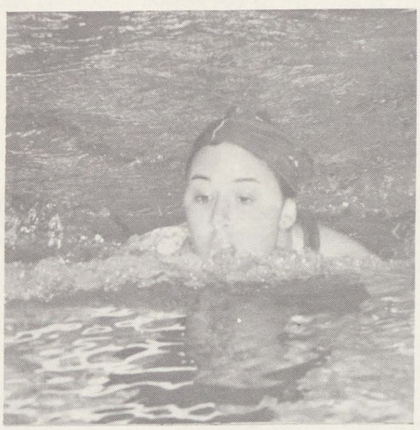
Finishing the last leg of the 100 yard breaststroke, the Eisenhower Commanders take first and third to bring them one step closer to a victory.

Swimming their way through a successful season, the Girls' Varsity Swim Team ended with a record of 9-3. Coaching his first season at Eisenhower, Dave Staudacher lead them to a second place finish at the area championships in Midland.

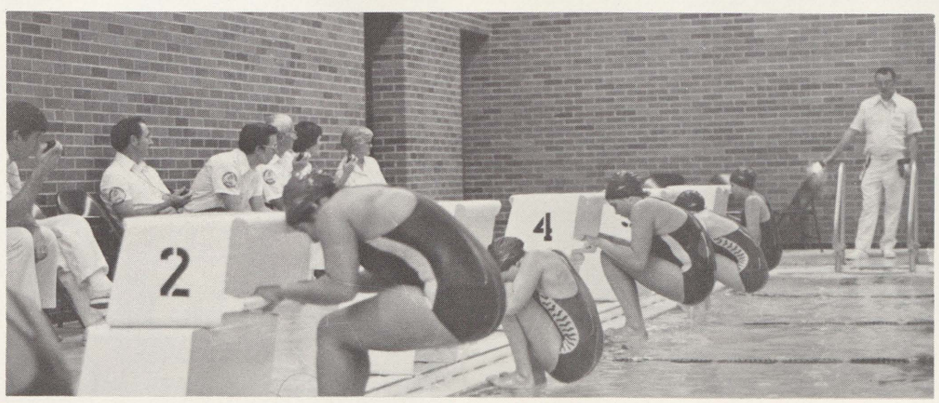
The outstanding swimmer of this season was Mary McClellan. Mary set five new Girls Varsity Pool records this year: the 500 yard freestyle, the 200 yard I.M., the 50 yard freestyle, the 200 yard freestyle, and the 100 yard butterfly. Taking first place and setting a new meet record in the 100 yard freestyle and placing eighth in the 200 yard I.M. at The Detroit News Invitational Meet were two of Mary's outstanding achievements this year.

Six girls from Eisenhower were state qualifiers. They included Michelle Shaw, who qualified in the 500 yard freestyle, Darlene Carey and Amy Minard who both qualifed in the 100 yard backstroke, and Mary McClellan who qualified in the 200 yard freestyle and 200 yard I.M., and the 400 yard freestyle relay consisting of Michelle Shaw, Sue Birkelbach, Karrie Clark, and Mary McClellan.

Flying to the finish, Mary McClellan sets a new girls varsity pool record in the 100 yard butterfly.

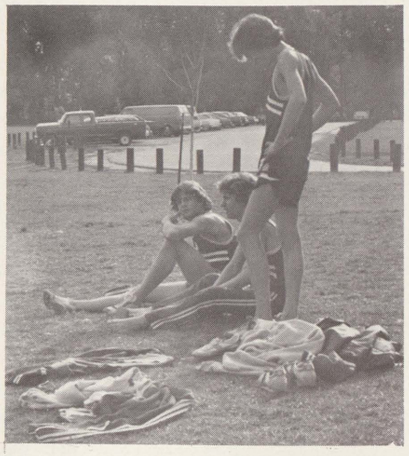


Pulling her way to the end of the breaststroke Amy Minard has to finish the third leg of her I.M.



Take your mark, get set! The Eisenhower backstrokers wait for the gun to start the race.

Cross Country competition



Team members relax after the race.

Placing third in the county and also third in the conference, the Eisenhower Cross Country Team completed a long and successful season. Led by coach Al VonDrasek, the team ended the year with a 5 win, 1 loss record.

A surprise in the season's showing was sophomore Todd Nuerminger, who qualified as an individual for the state meet. Both Nuerminger and John Singer were the outstanding runners for the year.

On your mark! Tension mounts as the runners await the starting gun.

Ike Has Best Record In Two Years

Record breaking was the highlight of the Commanders' 1978 football season. Despite their lack of size, the Commanders managed to break 22 of the existing football records.

Ike's defense, lead by leading tackler, Mark Luplow, set a new record as they recorded three shutouts. The offense, lead by quarterback, Andy Baird, and end, Todd Williams, broke all major passing records.

Upon completion of the season a banquet was given and many awards were received. Mark Luplow received "Most Valuable Lineman" and Mark Keyser received "Most Valuable Back". The most improved player award went to Bob Navarro. These awards were voted on by the team. Chris Schultz was recipient of the coaches' award, which was given for the first time.

Members of the Conference Team were also announced that night. Offensively they were Todd Williams and Dave Kraynak. Defensively they were Rick Bortle, Mark Luplow, Tom Kelly, and Morgan Priestly. Honorable Mention went to Mark Keyser, Bill Shapleigh, Andy Baird, Bob Navarro, Neal Brady, Mo Brown, Rick Ott, and junior Doug McKinley.

Chosen for all-area were Mark Luplow (1st team), Rick Bortle (2nd team), Todd Williams (2nd team), Andy Baird (Honorable Mention), and Dave Kraynak (Honorable Mention).

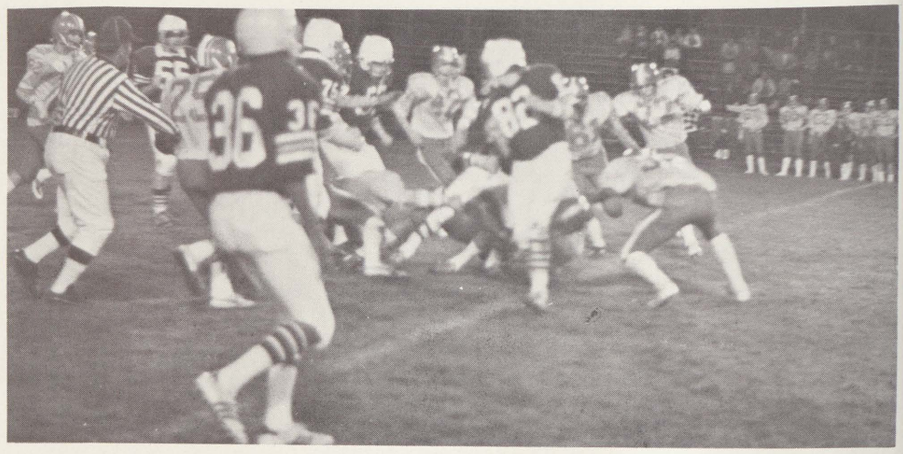
J.V. gaining strength

After a 3-5 season last year as freshmen, the J.V. Football Team under Coaches Jim Rummler and Dick Bomboske finished the 1978 season 5-2-1. Coach Rummler said he was proud of the team, and its turn around.

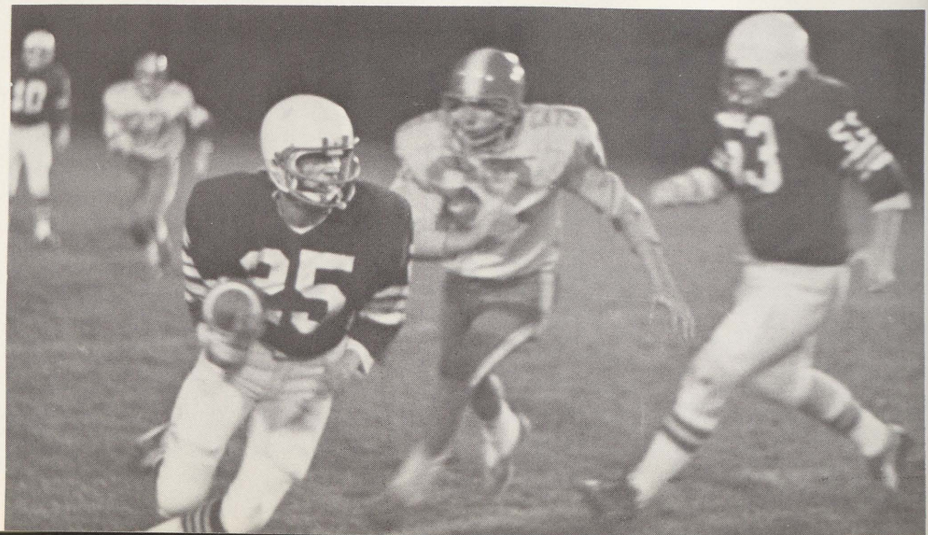
Generating the ground attack was Brian Krys who carried the ball for 1238 yards, he was also Ike's leading rusher. Adding 400 yards was Mo Fisher. Fisher came through with many clutch catches and was noted for his running abilities.

Setting the defensive surge for the J.V. were linemen Greg Doutre and Barry Braun who made key tackles. Linebackers were the strong point of the J.V. defense, and these positions were held by Tom Christenson and Mike Lutz, who were always quick to fill the holes and stop the opponents for a minimal gain.



Behind the tough blocking of the offensive line, Mike Beechie gains big yardage.

Pushing aside a Bobcat tackler is Craig Nester (53), while Brian Krys (25) sprints for 6 points.



Shaking a would-be tackler, Frank Reed (42) turns up field.

Outscoring their opponents by a total of 123 points, the Freshman Football team turned in a record of 7-1. Pacing the frosh on the ground was Frank Reed who rushed for 646 yards and an average of 8.5 yards per carry. Second to Reed was Jim LeBlanc, who carried the ball for 550 yards. LeBlanc also led the team in total points scored with 64 points and was the third highest tackler, with 57 tackles. Top tackler for the freshmen was Carlos Hernandez with 75 tackles, followed closely by Jim Paquin with 61. Tied with quarterback sacks were Hernandez and Tom Vilardo with three a piece to their credit.

Determination is seen on Cheryl Miller's face as she returns the volley and goes on to defeat her Oiler opponent.

Smashing their way to victory, the Girls Varsity Tennis Team took the WPC Championship for the 3rd consecutive year. Their overall season consisted of 12 wins and 2 losses.

Senior Lynn Kartz lead the way by winning the WPC singles division. Cheryl Miller was close behind with the runner-up position.

At the regional tournament Lynn Kartz won number 2 singles and juniors Jackie Kenny and Carol Molesky won number 3 and number 4 singles respectively. The team shined through when they captured 2nd place overall. This finish qualified them for the state meet.

Carol Molesky was given the most improved player award, and Cheryl Miller and Lynn Kartz were each co-winners of the most valuable player award. These honors were given out at the annual banquet

With the combined efforts of Mr. Jim Teal, and Mr. Bill Stocker, the team came through again with an outstanding season.

Varsity Golf takes W.P.C. title

Coach Jim Benjamin's Varsity Golf Team had its best season ever this year. They got off to a slow start with a 2-2 dual match win-loss record but came on strong winning 12 of their last 13 matches. They ended the season with 14 wins against only 2 losses.

On October 2nd, Eisenhower took its team to the White Pine Conference match at John Glenn and came home winners for the first time in Eisenhower's history. Junior Jay Phillion was White Pine Conference co-medalist with a round of 79.

Ike golfers repeated their performance on October 7th as they beat some of the finest teams in the state to win the Panther Classic at Alma. This was the first time Eisenhower golfers took that title.

Five days later they traveled to cold Oscoda to win regionals as they beat Mt. Pleasant in a playoff for the championship. This win gave them the right to compete in the state finals in Jackson.

On October 21st, Ike golfers went to state only to be disappointed. They shot one of their worst rounds of the year and finished in 17th position.

J.V. Golf had a great season this year according to coach Kim Kolbe. They had a 13-3 dual match win-loss record. That is the best record any J.V. team had recorded. This record was aided by strong performances from Greg Matekel and Carl Koella throughout the season.

Ending the season with a record of 14 wins and 9 losses, the team was coached by Mr. Terry Boswell.

The girls showed their skill when they tied for the White Pine Conference championship with John Glenn by a record of 9 wins and 1 loss.

Diane Forrester's athletic abilities accredited her with the most valuable player award. She was also the highest scorer in Eisenhower's history. The most improved player was Michele Crovella.

Coached again by Mr. Jim Noble, the Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball Team learned the fundamentals of basketball to become a highly skilled team. They proved this by their record of 12 wins and 8 losses. Averaging approximately 55 points per game, the girls finished the season with 9 wins and 1 loss in the White Pine Conference.

Leading scorer for Ike was Sharon Sanders, with Karen Kubczak placing second.

Varsity takes championship

For the past three years, Mrs. Cindy Bomboske has been coaching the three squads.

At the first pep assembly, the Varsity Pom-pon girls performed their award winning originality routine, "Bend Me, Shape Me".

"First Place Overall" was the award earned by the Varsity Pom-pon squad this summer. The squad traveled to a Badgerette Pom-pon camp on July 26, and brought home three trophies and six first place ribbons on July 30.

One trophy was for a fourth place in "Originality" competition, one trophy was for the "Sunshine Squad", or most congenial, award, and the third trophy was for the Championship.

Upon return from camp, the squad began preparing for the football season and then for basketball. They also attended a pom-pon clinic at Saginaw Valley State College in January.

The traditional sales of mistletoe at Christmas, and carnations at Valentine's Day enabled the girls to attend camp.

Mrs. Cindy Bomboske served for her third year as advisor to all three squads.

After school, the Varsity squad works hard at practice.

the Varsity, J.V., and Freshman squads united to perform "You Should Be Dancing".

A session at a Badgerette Novice Camp highlighted the Junior Varsity summer. Although they did not compete, they learned routines to help them begin their season of performances. They also raised money during the summer to purchase new uniforms.

The Freshman Squad increased in number this fall from the traditional number of nine to twleve. These twelve girls showed promise to follow in true Eisenhower style.

In August, the J.V. and Varsity Cheerleaders traveled to Virginia, after working hard throughout the summer. They competed at an ICF cheerleading camp at the University of Richmond. Over 450 girls participated, which made it the second largest camp in the U.S.

The Varsity Squad brought home an armload of awards from the August clinic. They received two spirit awards, three blue ribbons, which were for overall excellence, two ribbons for best pyramid, two for their outstanding entrance, exit and jumps, one for cheer execution, and one ribbon for their sparkle and shine. They received "Grand Champs" of the entire camp, and qualified for national competition.

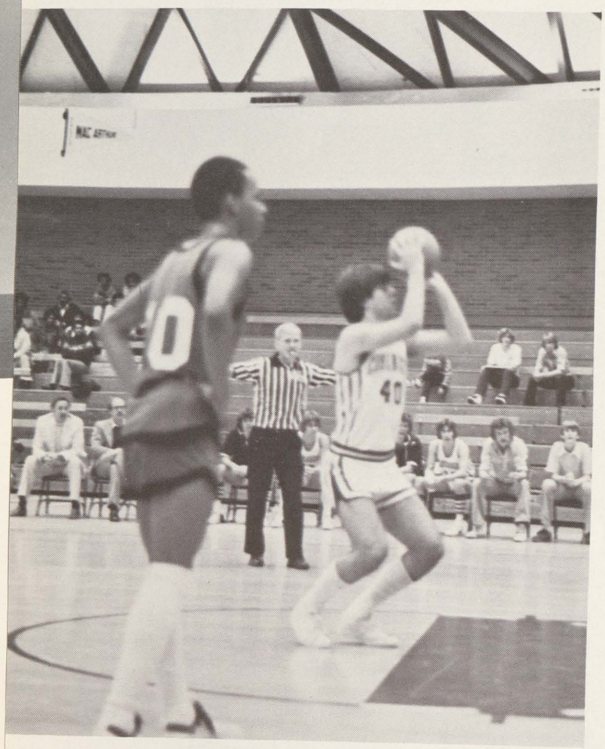
The J.V. cheerleaders and crowd form a big welcome for the Eisenhower team at Douglas MacArthur.

The new advisor Rita Belk, has done a fine job throughout the year.

The J.V., like the Varsity, seem to be following in the footsteps of cheerleading history at Ike. They received three blue ribbons, two "best pyramind," and two cheer execution ribbons. Their excellent abilities enabled them to become "Grand Champs" of the J.V. division.

After a week of preparation, the Freshman Cheerleaders tried out on August 31. Throughout the season they have shown their spirit, and worked hard at cheering on the Frosh Commanders.

Freshman Cheerleaders: Tammy Detloff, Laurie Dalton, Mary Morley, Linda Noehles, Molly Hunter, and Bernice Franz.



Rob Fleener shoots a free-throw in a tight pressure situation.

With a record of 7-3 in the White Pine Conference the Varsity Basketball Team took second place. Their overall record was 11-8. The team ran into the toughest season in Eisenhower history. A key game of the season was the second meeting with B.V. which came down to a last second shot that hit the back of the rim. B.V. won the game 66-65.

Senior Rob Fleener finished out his third varsity season with an average of 21.3 points and 9 rebounds each game.

The Commanders entered district tournaments on March 5th, winning their first game against Essexville Garber by a score of 35-34. They continued on March 7th against Bay City All Saints. Despite Rob Fleener's effort by scoring 31 points, the Commanders fell to the All Saints by a score of 67-62. Also, Senior Rob Fleener broke the single season scoring record for Eisenhower history.

With many players new to the game this year, the Eisenhower Hockey Team took on the task of rebuilding itself. Players received special training skills from trainer Greg Reetz which helped bring about an improvement in their playing.

Matt Warba was once again captain as well as one of the team's top players.

John Zinz's hard work and determination paid off as he was named the team's most improved player. The season record for the Hockey Team was seven wins, twelve losses, and one tie with MacArthur. At the end of March, players attended a banquet during which they received awards and spent an enjoyable evening.

Although the weatherman was upset at the prospect of "another winter storm watch", members of the Eisenhower Ski Teams looked forward to more snow. The large amounts of base on the hills meant better courses and better seasons for most of the teams.

Again improving for the second year in a row, the Girls Varsity ended their season with a 6 win 4 loss record. Placing fourth in Divisionals and 11th in Regionals were high points for the team, along with their victory over arch-rival, Douglas MacArthur, for the first time ever.

Although falls and disqualifications hampered the Boys' Varsity, their team finished the year with a 4 win 5 loss record. The team, consisting of sophomores and juniors only, came through with a fifth place in both regionals and divisionals. They combined with the girls to take third place overall in the County Ski Meet, where top skier Tim Dye took first place in the Giant Slalom.

Improving was the name of the game for Eisenhower's J.V. Ski Team, who won three of their five meets. They also competed in the county meet, where they took three medals. In addition to their regular season, the team took a trip to Caberfae to race Nastar, and of the twelve guys present, four won silver medals and eight own bronze.

Several of the wrestlers compiled individual records for themselves with Chris Swanton being the varsity point leader with a combined total of thirty-one wins and seven losses. In addition, Chris had the most pins at 23 and captured two championships in the tournament competition and qualified as the first Eisenhower wrestler to participate in the State finals by placing second in both the district and regional meets.

Eisenhower's wrestling team, under head coach Glenn Gagnon and assistant coaches Mike Gorte, and Mike Burns, compiled a dual meet record of eight wins, eight losses, and a draw this passed season. This year's record against some of the states toughest competition showed a continuing improvement in the Eisenhower wrestling program. The highlighting times were over a Midland High team, 42 to 19 and a victory over acrh rival MacArthur by a score of 40 to 24.

Though this year's swim team's stability was far from solid, the Eisenhower Swim Team sufficiently competed in this year's 78-79 season.

Hindered by the loss of several top swimmers from last year's senior class and the absence of many divers this year, the team completed an unfulfilling season with a record of 0 wins and 11 losses.

Coached by Mr. Dave Staudacher, the team was compiled of a majority of freshmen and sophomores. Outstanding performances were demonstrated by Dave Woods and John Wilde, Wilde qualifying for State Finals. While the team's record was disappointing, the members kept a resolute spirit throughout the season.

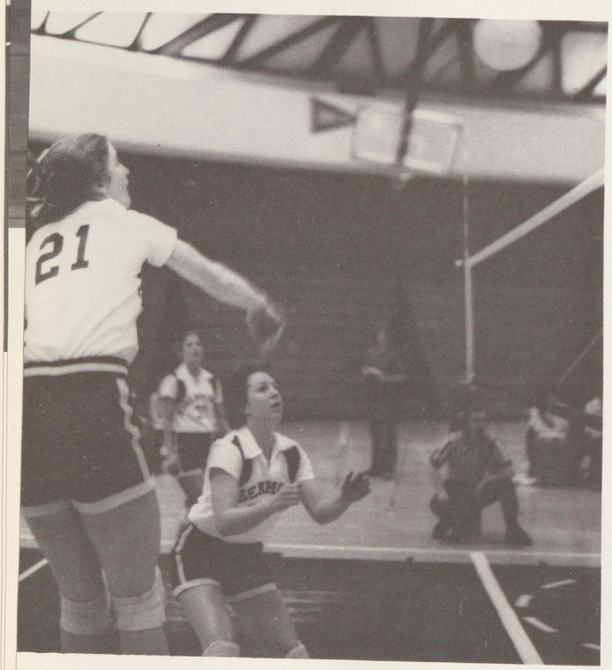
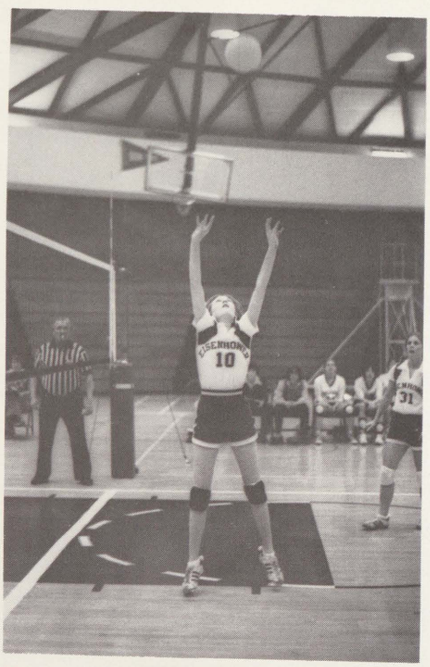
Traveling to the Battle Creek Tournament in January, the Varsity Volleyball Team gave an excellent showing of 9-1 and earned valuable experience for the rest of their season.

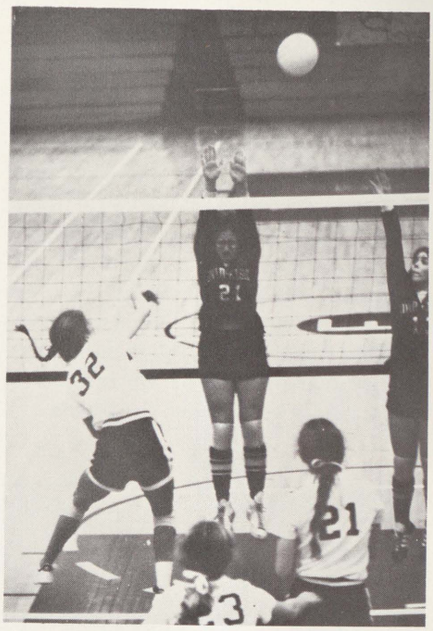
Finishing their season with a 15-2 record and placing second in the White Pine Conference, coach Marilyn Black said she was very happy with her team's performance. On March 3, the team took the district championship by beating Chesaning in straight games. On the following Saturday they defeated Munroe Jefferson to capture the regional crown. This qualified them with three other teams for the state semi-finals at Grand Rapids Junior College.



After receiving a good set from Amy Blake, Jenny Dornseifer spikes the ball over the net

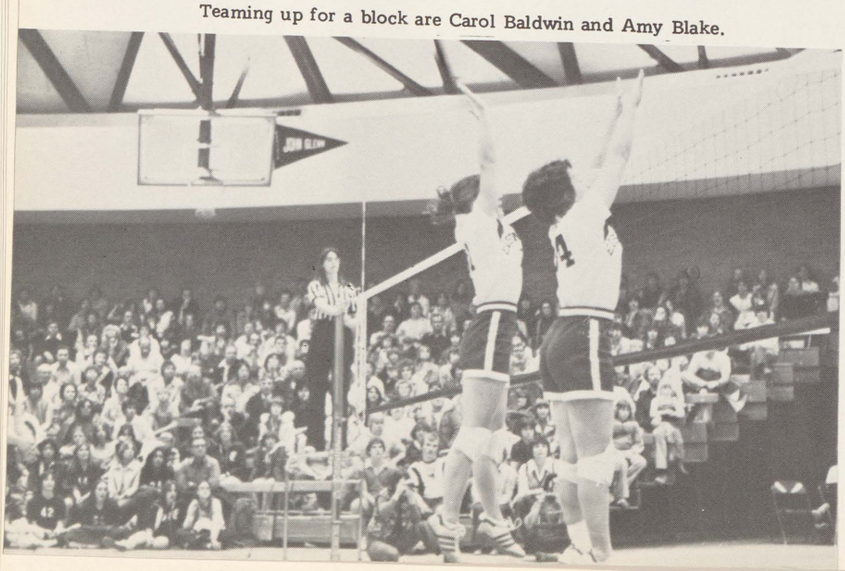


Calling the ball on the second hit, Jean Carbeno sets the ball for another spike.



Showing her form, Lorrie Nordin spikes an ace spike during district tournaments against Ovid Elsie.

Teaming up for a block are Carol Baldwin and Amy Blake.



After winning the first game, the team discusses their strategy for the next game.

BUMP SET SPIKE WIN!

Vigorous vitality showed in this year's J.V. Volleyball team, who compiled a 11-6 record under the superb coaching of Ms. Loreen Laracey.

Dominated by Freshmen players, the team showed remarkable strength by defeating MacArthur, John Glenn, Buena Vista, and Mt. Pleasant in White Pine Conference play. Recognized as this year's team captain was Diane Webber.

After a good toss, Jill Bruce hits a serve during the St. Pete's match.

Receiving a serve, Laurie Lazarro makes a good bump pass to the setter.

In its first year Eisenhower's Varsity Soccer Team posted an 8-4-1 record under the coaching of Mr. Bill Hartle and assistant coach Gregg Carl.

Even though Eisenhower lost four games early in the season, they were able to bounce back to win their last three games. Two of their losses were to Douglas MacArthur.

Also facing the Commanders this season were East Lansing, Flint Carman, Midlan dDow, and Valley Lutheran.

The key to Eisenhower's first year success came from most valuable players, John Zinz, and Alfredo Aboleda, and most improved player, Bruce Hill.

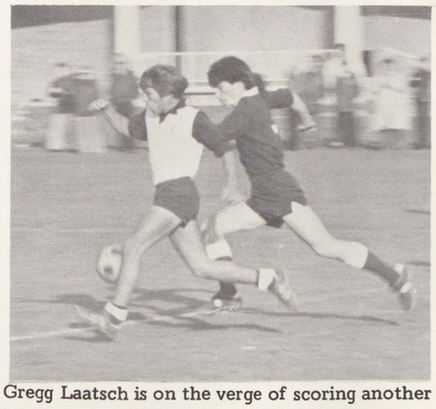
Kris Miotto slides for the attempt to keep the ball from the opposing player.



Gregg Laatsch is on the verge of scoring another Commander goal.

Debate's defense formidable

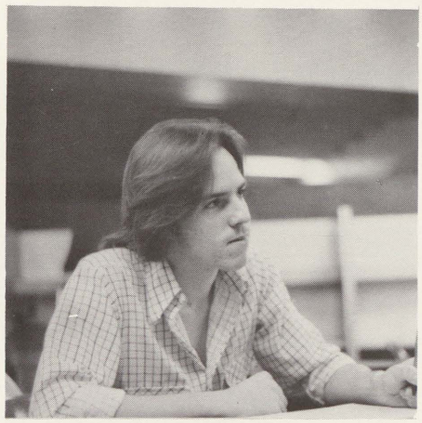
Ending with yet another winning season, the Eisenhower Debate teams traveled to Flint Kearsley High School for regional competition. The negative team, held by Debbie Hallman and Janet Matthais, won two of three debates

"We had an excellent group of sophomores," said coach Cindy Bomboske, referring to her novice team. Consisting of eight sophomores and one freshman, the novice team placed fifteenth out of seventy-five schools that competed. They also placed in State competition at M.S.U.

Speaking trophies were won by: seniors Dave Barnes, Debbie Hallman, and Tim Rosin; Annie Parker, a junior; and sophomores Paul Albers, Craig Nester, and Terri Tolles.

Serving as coach, Cindy Bomboske upheld her position for another successful year.



An excellent debater for four years, Ron Murphy listens to the opposing side.

Expressing her views on Nuclear power is freshman Kris Beckman.

Debating their views on solar energy, Kathy Packard isn't so sure about her next move, Sandy Ponichtera appears more confident.

Forensics entertains with expression

The Forensic Team, charged by firey phrases and audacious acting, traveled around the state to various invitational tournaments. Each student competed in one of the following events: serious reading, humorous reading, storytelling, dramatic duo, informative, oratory, extemporaneous, impromptu, and radio news.

The team met daily as a second semester class and was coached by Mrs. Cindy Bomboske. Each participant practiced during this time period and on their own to prepare for the weekly competition.

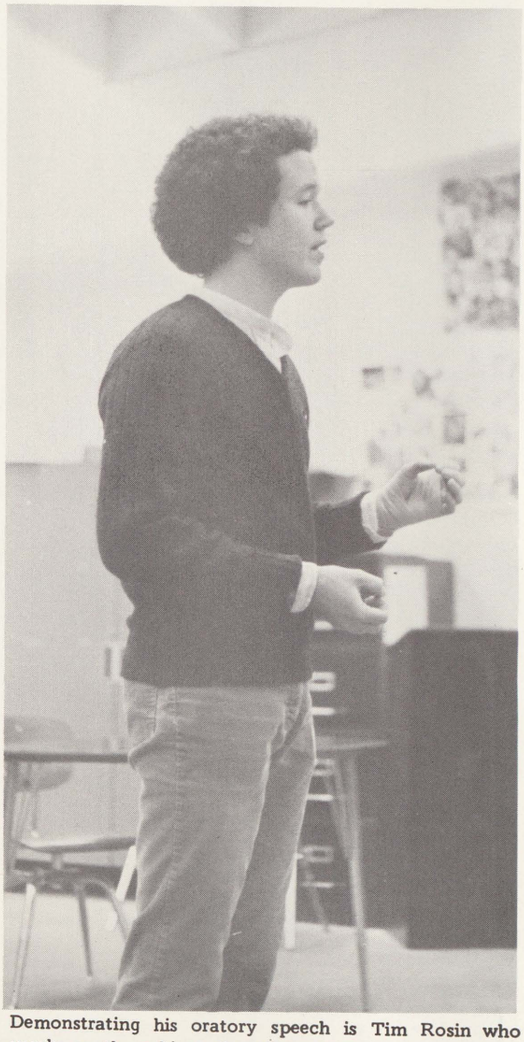
Patti Mitchell captures her audience's attention as she tells her enlightening story.



Demonstrating his oratory speech is Tim Rosin who speaks on the subject of autistic children.

Directing her talented students is coach Cindy Bomboske. Mrs. Bomboske was coach of the forensic team and worked with the Reader's Theatre and Forensic students each day.

Talent displayed in Readers' Theatre

Second Row: Craig Nester, Mark Gebhart, Karol Witting, Craig Dork, Debbie Hallman.

Intensive interpretation was demonstrated in the multiple readings, "The Telephone Hour" and "A Glimpse of the Truth". Each reading was arranged by coach Cindy Bomboske and was performed by the students in the Reader's Theatre class.

The participants practiced on a daily basis and competed each week at invitational tournaments.

Performing their multiple reading "The Telephone Hour" is Michele LaClair, Yvonne Bommarito, Dave Shaler, Lynne Newman, Craig Nester, and Kristie Beyer.
